Pickard Will Enlarge Plant Facilities Here

Plan Removal of Decorating Studios from Chicago to Antioch Soon

The advantages of a more unified manufacturing system, better living conditions for workers and more favorable working conditions for workers have been advanced by Pickard, Inc., as reasons for the contemplated removal of their decorating studios from Chicago to Antioch, with contingent expansion of the plant here at a total cost of $25,000.

The company has for the past three years conducted experimental work in the manufacture of fine chinaware here, at an outlay of about $30,000, and it has now reached the stage where it feels that its own manufacturers can hold their own in quality with imported ware from Europe or the Orient.

Plan New Kiln

The expansion plans call for construction of a new kiln at an expense of $18,000. C. K. Anderson, owner of the building on which the company holds a long-term lease and option to purchase, is undertaking a $7,000 addition to the building, which was once the old Corona pen factory. Lutidke and Story, the contractors in charge of the construction, will start work tomorrow.

Removal of the Chicago studios here is expected to take place within a year or less.

Samples of the Pickard ware were "o. k. ed" by the trade last week, and the company at the same time was given the biggest block of orders it has yet received—orders for six months ahead.

Moving of the Chicago plant here is expected to give it an Antioch payroll of from $100,000 to $150,000 annually.

Founded in 1898

The company was founded in 1898 at Edgerton, Wis., by the late Wilder A. Pickard. In 1904 it was moved to the location of the present decorating studios at 4853 Ravenswood, Chicago.

Originally, Pickard's specialized in china decorating, for which imported ware was used. Several years ago experiments in the manufacture of china were begun, and the laboratory at Antioch was opened early in 1937.

The company's entire output is sold through exclusive contracts with such firms as Marshall Field and similar establishments in various parts of the country.

H. A. Pickard is president and manager of the company.

Rotnour Company Opens Season at Lake Villa

Stage Productions Will Be Given in Gymnasium This Winter

The J. B. Rotnour players, just back from their regular summer northern tour, have opened a series of plays in the school gymnasium at Lake Villa. They will appear there every Monday evening.

Some new members have been added to the troupe this season, "J. B." announces, including Miss Octavia Powell, an accomplished violinist, and night club entertainer, Robert Bailey, who will be remembered as leading man.

The old favorites of other seasons have been retained.

A comedy, "That Family Next Door," is to be presented next Monday evening.

Merchants Are Sponsors

The company is being sponsored in its Monday evening appearances by Lake Villa business men and merchants whose names will be found in advertising columns of this issue of the Antioch News. Merchant free tickets may be secured from these firms.

A special comedy presentation between acts Monday evening will feature Miss Powell and her violin. Other vaudeville specialties will be given by Bob Gentry, Jimmy Parsons and others.

The doors will open at 7:30 o'clock and the curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

"J. B." and his players have successfully staged their production in Antioch for a number of years, and it is expected that their Lake Villa appearances will be equally well received.

SCHOOLS TO BE CLOSED REGISTRATION DAY, OCT. 16

Antioch Grade school and rural schools in the Antioch area will be closed on draft registration day, Oct. 16, in accordance with a request made by County Superintendent W. C. Petty. While no definite action has been taken by the board of Antioch High school, a similar request has been received there, and it is expected that the high school will probably also be closed.

The draft registrations will be made at the schools, and in many cases the teachers are being asked to assist with this work. The sending out of a letter to Illinois county superintendents asking their co-operation was one of the last official acts of the late Gov. Henry Horner.

Attend Gov. Horner Funeral Rites Tuesday

Earl Somerville of Antioch, who is employed at the state hospital in Kankakee, was among those attending the military funeral rites for the late Governor Henry Horner in Chicago Tuesday.

Sen. Ray Paddock, Rep. Nick Keler of Waukegan and Rep. Harold D. Kelsey of Barrington were present at the services.

Interment was in Mount Mary cemetery following the services at 11 a. m.

Horner died in his Winnetka home early Sunday morning. The body lay in state in the flag-draped auditorium of the 122nd field artillery armory from noon Monday until shortly before the funeral.

The bronze coffin was banked high with ferns; four soldiers of the 33rd division formed the guard of honor.

At one end of the vast hall was a large American flag; along the sides dipped black and purple drapes; the colors of every national guard unit in the city were displayed as a token of respect.

Letter Writing Week

National Letter Writing Week, first observed in 1938, is again being observed this year. Postmaster Roy L. Kufahl has been notified by R. M. S. Black, third assistant postmaster general. Letter Writing week opened Oct. 6 and will continue through Oct. 12.

Busy Year is Being Planned by Legionnaires

Armistice Program, WLS Show Are on Its Calendar

Officers and committees of the Antioch American Legion post are busy these days checking over details of the Legion program for the fall and winter months.

Following a district meeting in the Waukegan Legion home which Antioch delegates will attend Friday evening, and a trip to Springfield Oct. 19 and 20 by Commander J. Harry Message and Adjutant John Horan, activities of the local Legionnaires are expected to proceed at a lively tempo.

Since Armistice Day this year falls on a Monday, Americanization Chairman Otto S. Klass is arranging for a program to be held on Sunday, Nov. 10.

The observance will be held in the Antioch High School auditorium. It will include a talk and a short program of patriotic music.

Parade on Monday

On Monday, the customary Main street parade and salute will be held at 11 a. m., followed with open house for the Legion members.

The Antioch Legion is planning to sponsor its second annual WLS show on Nov. 21, 22 and 23.

The local Legion post has 50 paid-up members to date, this year.

Archdiocesan Delegates Are Elected by Society

Delegates to the Chicago Diocesan Holy Name meeting to be held in the Palmer House, Chicago, Nov. 3, were elected by the Holy Name society of St. Peter's church in its first fall meeting, Monday evening.

They include Robert Dunn, president; Conrad Walters, secretary; the Rev. F. M. Flaherty, spiritual advisor; Henry Harvey, Dudley Kennedy, Roman Vos.

Among the activities the Antioch Holy Name society is planning is a Hallowe'en card party and dance to be held in the near future.

The Case of Elliott Roosevelt . . .

Thousands of America's loyal young men next Wednesday will comply with the selective service act by registering for compulsory military service. Thereby they will be observing the letter and spirit of the law.

They will, however, remember the scandalous appointment of 30-year old Elliot Roosevelt, the Third Term Candidate's second son, to a Captaincy in the procurement division of the the air corps of the Army on the eve of the registration for conscription. Elliot Roosevelt has never had a day of military service, and he has no particular qualification to be a Captain in the Army. He cannot fly—a bird without wings. He did not apply to any recruiting office, to be placed where his country needed him, as other mother's sons will have to do. Oh no, the head of the army air corps, Gen. Arnold, himself, assigned him from the "specialists reserve" to a job in procurement—in other words, a purchasing agent to buy supplies. He will draw $200 a month, plus allowances that may be as high as $116 a month. Other boys will register with the prospect of receiving $30 a month, not $200.

Elliot's father, the President, told the governors of the states that the selective service law should be administered "fairly and without fear or favor." Elliot might have served in some "specialty"—but that would have been decided not by him but by his qualifications in fair competition with all other boys, as would the place and condition of his service. He would have been honored by having to wear the uniform and not "privileged," as is reported in the press, to wear civilian clothes.

Elliot's act "is doubly despicable," writes Gen. Hugh Johnson, "because, for every boy who escapes his proper turn, another mother's son is pushed up before his turn to serve and perhaps to die."

Local boys also will recall that, without a day of military training James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, had himself made a Lieutenant-Colonel of Marines several years ago; and that Franklin D. Jr., holds an Ensign's commission in the Naval reserve. Yet—the president says, the draft is to be administered—"fairly, and without fear or favor."

Of course, the sons of ordinary folk in the dictator countries should not expect to be captains. They are supposed to be privates—the cannon fodder of war, single-handedly brought about by the dictator. Apparently the Roosevelts already regard themselves as entitled to the prerogatives of royalty, for three of the sons hold commissions.

The Case of Wendell Willkie . . .

In the World War, Wendell Willkie enlisted as a private. He spent four months in intensive training before he was commissioned as a lieutenant. He spent another year in training camps in this country and was then sent to France where he served under fire. Just before the Armistice he was recommended for promotion to a Captaincy. All of his commanders approved the recommendation but he never became a Captain because when the war ended President Wilson suspended all pending promotions. But Elliot Roosevelt, without spending a day in a training camp, is appointed a Captain.

"J. B." and his players have successfully staged their production in Antioch for a number of years, and it is expected that their Lake Villa appearances will be equally well received.

Cerro Gordo won the honor by a score of 920.1 while the Antioch team crowded them with a score of 919.225.

Junior Class Play Casts Announced

The two casts that will be seen in Antioch High school's Junior class play, "Block That Kick," have been announced by Marguerite K. Phillips, director.

The story opens in the Saunders' living room on a Sunday evening just after the family has finished a buffet supper. Mrs. Saunders is endeavoring to revive the old custom of family group singing. Naturally Roberta, a senior in high school, her twin brother, Bob, Gray, another son who sings, a junior in school and Chuckie, the cut-up of the family, all become involved in the argument that arises over this custom. Gramps and Grandma lend a sprightly touch to the family circle, never failing to get into the middle of things. Since Gramps played football in his day, Dad in his day and now

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday October 6.

The Golden Text was, "Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath; there is none else" (Deuteronomy 4:39).

Among the petitions which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?" Though an hot shroud encircles against me, my heart shall not fear, though war should be against me, In this will I be confident" (Psalms 27:1,3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The understanding, even in a degree, of the divine All-power, destroys fear, and plants the feet in the true path,—the path which lead to the house built without hand 'eternal in the heavens.' Human hands have no legitimate mandate and in kingdom, Love is enthroned." (4:45.)

Mrs. Dunn, who is employed in the probate clerk's office in Wankegan, has made it a hobby to search out these old trail trees and other Indian markers and relics, and photograph them.

The Indian trails, she explained in her talk, were of three types:

The "war trails"; hunting trails, such as those along the Skokie, and migratory trails— for the early Indian liked to "go places" quite as well as the modern auto driver. Five such trails crossed what is now Lake county from north to south, and others extended from east to west. The north-south routes included that along the "great divide" between the Great Lakes and Mississippi waters, along the Skokie; a second route roughly parallel to the Green Bay road; an other still closer to the Lake Michigan shore, approximately where Sheridan road is now, and two others further west.

The news was made known to her friends by Miss Hughes Monday evening when she entertained for a group of her office associates and Keweenaw friends. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Robert Hughes of Davenport, Iowa, and Mrs. O. F. Wenzel of Chicago. Grade P. T. A.
to Hear Talk on "Mental Hygiene"

Dr. Mary Pope of National Education College Will Be Speaker Monday

Dr. Mary Pope, head of the medical department at the National College of Education, Evanston, will speak on "Mental Hygiene" at the Antioch Grade School Parent Teacher association's first meeting of the year, Monday evening, Oct. 14.

The meeting will be held in the school house at 8 o'clock.

Other meetings for the year, as listed in yearbooks which have just been issued to members of the local association, are to be as follows:

Dec. 9—Topic, "Leisure Time"; Christmas carols by grade school children; demonstrations and exhibits by mothers of local leisure time organizations.

Jan. 13—Topic, "Homemaking"; community singing; talk by Mrs. William Fulton; special music.

May 12—Outdoor concert by Grade School band; reports, committee chairmen; installation of officers, under charge of Mrs. Elmer Hunter.

Long before the white man appeared on this continent, the Indians had their own commerce and industries, their own trade routes, and their own network of woodland and prairie trails. To mark these trails through the forest areas they had their own system of sign posts—the "trail trees" that pointed the way to springs, hunting and fishing grounds, camp sites and lake shore "work shop" where arrow heads and tools were fashioned.

Many such "trail trees" may still be found in Lake county. Mrs. R. Dunn of Wankegan told members of the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club in their first meeting of the year, a 6:15 o'clock dinner held in the Ball hotel Monday evening.

Mrs. Dunn, who is employed in the probate clerk's office in Wankegan, has made it a hobby to search out these old trail trees and other Indian markers and relics, and photograph them.

The Indian trails, she explained in her talk, were of three types:

PREGENZER WINS LAKE CHANNEL DREDGING JOB

The $35,564 job of dredging four channels connecting lakes here has been awarded to Ray Pregeren, of Antioch, the Illinois division of waterways has announced.

The job includes the following items:

1. Dredging Lake Marie to Channel Lake.
2. Removal of abutment and rubble walls north of route 173.
3. Dredging Channel Lake to Lake Catherine.
4. Dredging channel from Petite Lake to Bluff Lake.

The total amount of material to be removed is 110,278 cubic yards. The dredging of a channel from Petite lake to Bluff lake is by far the largest, with the total amount of earth to be removed estimated at 77,000 cubic yards. About 29,200 cubic yards will have to be removed from the channel from Lake Marie to Channel lake.

Pregeren's nearest competitor in bidding was the Gunyon Dredging Co., Elkhorn, Wis., with a bid of $38,226.

The state had previously rejected as too high Pregeren's bid of $18,364 on channels connecting Channel Lake, Lake Catherine and Lake Marie. The bid accepted for this portion of the work totals $13,000.

This portion of the work will remove about 33,200 cubic yards of earth and provide a bottom width of 10 feet and depth of five feet below the boating stage.

The Observer

Two items in the day's news which we hope a Chicago newspaper won't mind us copying off its front page:

Coffeyville, Kas., Oct. 9 (Special). Politics still is a gentleman's game in Coffeyville, though partisans may toss eggs in other areas.

Senator Scott Lucas, Illinois Democrat, arrived this afternoon in Coffeyville—where on Sept. 16 Wendell Willkie made his opening address as the Republican Presidential standard bearer—and in anticipation of his Democratic speaking engagement on the Plaza tonight, opened his briefcase to scan his speech. It wasn't there.

Lucas was in a dither until the Coffeyville Journal, a Republican daily, got its late-afternoon mail. Consign-

AIDS CAMPAIGN IN AIRPLANE

Jack Van Buren, mayor of Lake Villa, after a trip which took him into the 102 counties of Illinois where he called upon newspapers and county officials, today landed his Stinson airplane in Lake county. After covering the state Van Buren feels confident that the entire Republican ticket will be elected in November.

His ship is equipped with a powerful loud speaker which enables him to broadcast the Republican message direct to the people.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Political Campaign Enters Final Weeks; Draft Registration Plans Completed; Hitler and Mussolini Hold War Council As Great Britain Continues to 'Hold Out'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

From an invasion base on the English channel coast, Reichsmarschall Hermann Goering points his baton toward England as his aides look on. This is a rare photograph for very few pictures of the Nazi secret airfields along the channel pass through the German censor.

DEFENSE:
Conscription

Deferment of the draft call in farm states until the harvest has been brought in is being considered in Washington. Maj. Joseph F. Battley, occupational deferment advisor to the Joint army-navy draft committee, made the recommendation. The proposed deferment would be for six months. In states which are both agricultural and industrial, Battley said, he proposed the governors call urban registrants during the harvest time and equalize this in other seasons.

Plans for the October 16 registration are almost completed. For those in the age range, 21 to 35, there will be no excuse for failure to register. Men who are away from home that day may register wherever they are, and their cards will be sent to their home districts. Those out of the country must register within five days of their return. Failure to register is punishable with five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Promotions

The army in September reached the highest peak in peacetime history, 332,142 men. Continued rapid three-year enlistments in the regulars is expected to bring the army to its maximum strength of 375,000 in a comparatively short time. Enlistments since May have been almost 125,000.

To meet the requirements of this rapidly expanding establishment the army is pushing its officer personnel into the higher grades that will be created by the bigger units. In time of peace the army promoted officers up to the grade of colonel by seniority. But now a mass promotion, unknown except in war, already has taken place. To make room for reserve officers, 55,000 of whom are being called into the service, all second lieutenants with a year of service have been promoted to first lieutenants and all first lieutenants to captains. The President also named 65 officers to higher rank in the general grade. This increases to 167 the number of officers in the grade of brigadier general and higher.

When the emergency ceases, or if the officers are assigned to other duties, they will revert to their lower grades.

Recreation

The army will seek, in this emergency, to eliminate the elbowing of each other by welfare agencies that caused rivalry and some ill-feeling in the World war. There will be no recreation huts by Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus or Red Cross. Instead the army itself will maintain recreational facilities in all camps.

Congress has provided funds for this work. The house defeated a move which would have forbidden use of these funds for dispensing beer. Sale of hard liquors already is forbidden on army posts.

THE CAMPAIGN:

Republicans

For the second time in as many weeks, Wendell L. Willkie arrived at his New York home to rest up after six days of hard campaigning. It was the first appearance of the G. O. P. presidential candidate in the East since his nomination. During this period he covered ground from Indiana to Pennsylvania. Be-

NAMES . . . in the news

Loss—Col. F. C. Harrington, 53, Works Progress administrator, died in New London, Conn. In 1935 Col. Harrington was "loaned" to the WPA by the army when that agency was under severe criticism.

Crash—Brig. Gen. Francis W. Honeycutt was killed when an airplane in which he was riding crashed in a southeast Georgia swamp.

Spain—Julian Pastero, 70-year-old last president of the Spanish republic which was overthrown by General Franco, died in a prison in Seville.

Death—Marguerite Clark, who early in the history of motion pictures shared star honors with Mary Pickford, died in New York at the age of 54.

Helping Hand?

Here is Warren Lee Pierson, manager of the U.S. Export-Import bank photographed on his arrival in Buenos Aires during his current tour of South American capitals. In an official capacity he is believed to be consolidating Pan-American relationships for the expected economic trade war between western hemisphere powers and the German-Italian-Japanese axis.

NEW ALLIANCE:
Against U. S.

Under the eyes of 200 newspaper men from all parts of the world, in the vast gilded Hall of Ambassadors of the new German chancellery, Adolf Hitler and Premier Benito Mussolini linked their fortunes of war to those of Japan. A 10-year agreement was signed by their representatives calling for a "new world order."

The treaty provided: 1. Europe should be the sphere of influence of Germany and Italy; 2. Asia should be the sphere of influence of Japan; 3. The trio will act as one if any should be attacked by a power not now involved in the present European war or the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

It looked as though two nations were being eyed, the United States and Soviet Russia. But another provision excepted Russia. There were hints of additional "secret" provisions, one calling for German and Italian fifth-column activity in Latin America, so that American influence would be activated in that direction and not in the Pacific.

Was the agreement aimed at the United States? To make sure that there would be no misunderstanding, German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop spoke up on that. He bluntly said it was. But there was some indication that Russia didn't like what transpired and didn't entirely believe they were out of range. Von Ribbentrop was scheduled to hurry to Moscow and allay suspicions. It was said authoritatively the agreement was an answer to America's sale of 50 destroyers to Britain.

Roughhouse

Not all of Willkie's audiences were friendly. In several cities he was booed and in a few he was pelted with vegetables. This roughhouse reached its peak in Pontiac and Detroit, Mich. In the former city the G. P. standard bearer was the target for eggs. Mrs. Willkie was hit. In Detroit, as he passed one of the city's largest hotels, there was a rain of objects from windows. One woman dropped a five-pound wastebasket on the crowd beneath, seriously injuring a girl. The thrower turned out to be an employee of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. These incidents brought a rebuke from President Roosevelt, who called the conduct "reprehensible." He ordered the federal employee be separated from her job and suggested criminal prosecution be brought.

THE WAR:

New Plans?

While there were some indications that the Nazi invasion plans for England had bogged down and while the German high command admitted the war would go into a second winter, an anxious world turned its eyes toward another Hitler-Mussolini war council as the dictators met at historic Brenner Pass for a discussion of future military and diplomatic adventure.

By spring, Berlin said, it was believed that effective pounding of British cities and industries and "general hunger" would be on the side of Germany. It was said London will not be permitted to catch its breath.

Britain was doing some bombing on its own score, meanwhile. One raid over Berlin lasted more than five hours. But the most terrifying moments still were reserved for the channel ports, and again the combination of bombardment from the sky and long-range coastal guns in England made many of these harbors an extremely unhealthy place for inhabitation.

If Hitler calls off his channel blitzkrieg, many look for winter activity in the Balkans. Germany may make a concerted movement against Greece and Turkey while Mussolini throws his weight toward the Suez in Egypt.

MISCELLANY:

Safety

Five hundred and six school children in Chicago marched slowly through the main streets to beat of muffled drums—each representing a ghost. The funeral file was preceded by a truck bearing two caskets and followed by a hearse. The pageant was produced by the Greater Chicago Safety council as a grim reminder that 500 pedestrians were killed in that city last year by automobiles.

TO SPEAK TUESDAY

"Man Finds Himself" is the subject to be given in Antioch Township High School auditorium on Tuesday evening, October 15, at 8:15 o'clock, under the auspices of the Bahá'í's of this area.

This lecture will be presented by Virginia Cameron of Wilmette, above, with Dr. James Lewis of Milwaukee presiding as chairman. Mrs. Cameron is a graduate of Northwestern University and former President of the University Literary society. She has also served as secretary of the inter-relations department of the League of Women Voters in Evanston. She is a familiar speaker on the Bahá'í platform through the middle west and is in constant demand by Youth groups. This lecture concludes the present series at the High school, but for those who are interested in the Bahá'í teachings, meetings will be held at the homes of members during the fall and winter.

VIRGINIA CAMELON

HEADS GROUP

Ted Larson, senior from Antioch, was elected president of Phi Alpha Literary society of Illinois State Teachers' college Jacksonville, during a special election this week. Larson, a history major at college, has been active in society and campus events throughout his course. Last year he served as president of the International Relations club.

Junior Class Play

Bob—the family arguments center around football, as well as singing.

To the school has come a young Indian from a reservation. The fellows take him in. He plays wonderful football, but in spite of this the girls snub him, all except Roberta, who feels that she is now in love for the first time.

Complications arise. Johnnie is having difficulties with his studies, which means no football games if he can't keep up in his grades; the last scene takes place in the principal's office, just at game time and you will be treated to all the thrills, heartbreaks, and good laughs that one meets with in the average family and in the average day at high school.

The play will be presented on Thursday, Oct. 31, and Friday, Nov. 1, by the following students:

AMUSEMENTS

Adrienne's Predictions

Amaze Roosevelt Audience

One of the most unusual mental attractions of its kind on tour today is now appearing at the Roosevelt theatre in Kenosha, the second appearance of this world-famed artist in the past several months.

Headlined throughout the theatrical world as "Adrienne" this marvel of the present age frankly predicts events of national and local interest in response to the questions put to her by the audiences and many of which have startled Kenosha's theatre goers.

During her last visit to the Roosevelt Theatre and many months prior to the actual happenings "Adrienne" predicted the Cincinnati Red as the winner of the National League pennant, also predicted the winner and exact round of the Louis-Godoy fight, which took place during her last visit. Most notable of her predictions at that particular time was her announcement of the "drafting" of President Roosevelt for a third term, all of which have become actualities and much to the astonishment of the audiences who are now attending in capacity during her return engagement.

"Adrienne" appears in person each evening in conjunction with the regular-scheduled two feature screen program.

Coach Stagg Praises

Film of Rockne's Life

A. A. Stagg, dean of American football coaches, and Mrs. Stagg spent a day as guests of Pat O'Brien, film star, and Lloyd Bacon, film director, on the football field of Loyola University of

Los Angeles, where O'Brien and

Bacon's picture, "Klute Rockne—All American" was being filmed. The picture, now completed, has its first showing Sunday at the Kenosha theatre in Kenosha.

The veteran coach from College of the Pacific, whose original football unit was adapted by Rockne into "the Notre Dame shift," and one of whose pupils, Jesse C. Harper, became Rockne's original football mentor at

Notre Dame, told O'Brien and Bacon that they were doing "a remarkable work."

The famous visitor had been Kiente

Rockne's lifelong friend, having been associated with the Notre Dame idol on the Football Rules committee, the National Association of Football

Coaches.

"Pat O'Brien looks and speaks so much like 'Rock' that I could not be believe the evidences of my own senses when I saw him in his makeup for this motion picture," Stagg commented as he watched the fictitious Rockne guide

a "Notre Dame" team made up largely of University of Southern California football squad members, through skirmish plays against a rival eleven representing West Point, but composed in reality of players from University of California at Los Angeles.
